ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Earth Sciences at Pondicherry University was established in the Year 1994. The department is being supported by the DST, Government of India under the FIST program and National Facility Programme for Isotope Geosciences and Geochronology. The department offers M.Sc. in Applied Geology (2 yrs) and M.Sc., in Geophysics (2 yrs); integrated M.Sc. in Applied Geology (5 yrs); and Ph.D. to achieve academic excellence and to produce geoscientists with world-class training. Recently, we have adopted the NEP 2020 curriculum to develop students' core capacities and life skills, and to promote critical and higher-order thinking. The academic curriculum of the department helps a good number of students to qualify in national-level competitive examinations including NET, GATE, and placement in major geoscientific organizations like AMD, GSI, CGWB, NHPC, and ONGC. The department has well-equipped laboratories with sophisticated equipment like XRD, TIMS, ICP-AES, LA-ICP-MS, and IRMS.

ABOUT THE EVENT

The name "MRITTIKA" carries a profound meaning, translating to "mother earth" in Sanskrit. As we gather under the banner of MRITTIKA, our focus is singular and profound – Mother Earth. The event unfolds as a celebration of the intricate wonders and mysteries hidden within the layers of our planet Earth. This event serves as a unique platform designed exclusively for students (3rd year onwards), aiming to ignite their interests and exploration in various facets of geology. Through a series of engaging activities, workshops, and presentations, participants will delve into the diverse realms of geology, gaining insights that extend beyond the confines of textbooks. Join us in this exploration, as we embark on a two-day adventure dedicated to deepening our understanding and fostering a profound connection with Mother Earth.

WHY MRITTIKA?

MRITTIKA stands out as a truly unique geological event, hosted in one of India's most advanced geology departments that serves as a melting pot for students from diverse cultures and linguistic backgrounds. The event takes pride in offering an exceptional hands-on training opportunity on sophisticated instruments housed within the department, providing a rare experience for students who may not otherwise have access to such resources. The interactive workshop sessions facilitate cross-cultural exchanges, fostering an environment where students can share their perspectives and knowledge. This dynamic interaction not only enriches their understanding of geology but also cultivates a spirit of collaboration and camaraderie. Additionally, the event showcases demonstrations of cutting-edge research activities across various fields of geology, offering valuable insights to aspiring geologists.
