

Film club set up at PU Community College

The Hindu Bureau
PUDUCHERRY

Pondicherry University Community College has set up a film club to introduce students to the various aspects of popular entertainment medium, especially cinema.

Tamil actor 'Aadukalam' Murugadoss, while inaugurating the club, shared with the students the kind of struggles he underwent during his journey in the film industry.

He also urged students to devote more time to study of literature-related books.

C. Suresh Kumar, assistant professor of the Department of Visual Communication said that the film club would provide educational opportunities outside the classroom ambiance.

The club also aims to familiarise students with various cultural backgrounds through screening of unique films and to train the students to become active viewers of cinema.