

Pondy univ opens online admission for PG courses

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Puducherry: Pondicherry University has invited online applications for admission to various integrated five-year postgraduate programmes for the academic year 2023-24. The university offers integrated courses in applied geology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, computer science, statistics, history, political science, sociology and social and economic administration and law (Seal).

The aspiring candidates can visit the university website <https://www.pondiuni.edu.in/admissions-2023-24/> to apply for the programmes online. The candidates will be admitted based on their performance in the common university entrance test (Cuet) (UG) conducted by the National Testing Agency between May 21 and June 23. The last date to submit the filled in application forms online is July 27 (5pm).