National Workshop on “Psychological Awareness among Youth” – PUCC, Lawspet organized by Department of Biochemistry, PUCC from 20th February, 2024 to 1st March 2024

Spreading awareness on the state of mental health in youth is necessary to surface deep and honest conversations on the many ways adolescents are subjected to high levels of stress and trauma. It allows communities across all demographic groups to recognize the warning signs and prevent the dismissal of severe struggles as just another assumed kid or teenage habit.

National Workshop on Mindfulness Practices for Youth – Pucc, Lawspet organized by Department of Mathematics, Pucc from 11 – 13 March, 2024

Most youth experience states of mindfulness sometimes through a physical activity or being in nature. With continued practice, mindfulness can become a trait or disposition and an approach to life. MBIs such as the well-known Mindfulness-Based Stress Reduction (MBSR) are recognized as evidenced- based practices for stress reduction and other challenges such as anxiety. Many programs for youth have been adapted from MBSR.

World Mental Health Day – Guest Talk on “Addiction the Impending Tsunami” organized by Department of Management, PUCC on 22nd October, 2024

We’ll cleanse an area on your arm and insert a new sterile needle for the blood draw. (This feels like a quick pinch and is over in seconds.)

A whole blood donation takes about 8-10 minutes, during which you’ll be seated comfortably or lying down while approximately a pint of whole blood is collected.

For a Power Red donation, a device will use a single-use kit to collect two units of packed red blood cells and return your plasma along with saline through the same sterile needle in approximately 45 minutes.
